5. Product / Service Details

5.1 Service Description

WELTRIQ 's initial product is a project-based roofing service for residential customers.

The service is designed around managing the roofing project as a complete process rather than providing only labour.

Core Service

Professionally managed residential roofing projects

WELTRIQ's service covers the major stages of a roofing project:

1. Customer enquiry
2. Requirement understanding
3. Site assessment
4. Quotation and scope confirmation
5. Project planning
6. Material coordination
7. Roofing execution
8. Quality inspection
9. Final handover

This structured workflow is based on the operating model established in the earlier business plan.

5.2 Service Features

1. Requirement & Consultation

WELTRIQ begins by understanding the customer's roofing requirement, expected outcome, preferred design/finish and project expectations.

2. Site Assessment

The site is assessed before finalizing the project scope.

The assessment helps identify the practical requirements of the project and the resources required for execution.

3. Project Proposal

WELTRIQ provides a structured proposal/quotation covering the agreed scope of work.

The earlier business model specifically identified clear quotations and agreements as part of the professional service system.

4. Project Planning

The project is planned around:

- Required workforce
- Materials
- Execution sequence
- Site requirements
- Expected schedule
- Quality checkpoints

5. Roofing Installation

The roofing work is executed according to the agreed project scope using the required workforce, materials and installation process.

6. Quality Control

WELTRIQ incorporates quality inspection into the project workflow.

The purpose is to reduce issues relating to workmanship and finishing, which were identified as existing customer problems in the earlier business research.

7. Project Handover

After completion, the work is checked against the agreed scope before the project is handed over to the customer.

5.3 Service Delivery Model

WELTRIQ's service can be represented as:

ENQUIRY

QUOTATION

AGREEMENT / SCOPE CONFIRMATION

MATERIAL & WORKFORCE COORDINATION

FINAL HANDOVER

This process is intended to make the customer's experience more organized and reduce the need for the homeowner to coordinate different parties independently.

5.4 Technology & Systems Used

WELTRIQ's business model is primarily service and execution driven. Therefore, technology is not the product itself; it is an operational support system.

The pitch deck identifies development of a website, sales process, SOPs and marketing foundation as part of the business journey.

The planned technology and systems can support:

Customer Acquisition

- Website
- Digital lead generation
- Lead magnets
- Social media
- WhatsApp-based communication

Sales Management

- Lead tracking
- Follow-up management
- Quotation management
- Customer communication

Project Management

- Project status tracking
- Scheduling
- Task management
- Documentation
- Quality checkpoints

Customer Experience

- Project updates
- Digital communication
- Quotation/document sharing
- Feedback collection

WELTRIQ's long-term business direction can therefore combine physical roofing execution with digital process management.

5.5 Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs)

A major part of WELTRIQ's differentiation is the development of standardized operating procedures.

Instead of depending entirely on individual workers' personal methods, the business aims to establish repeatable processes for:

- Lead handling
- Site visits
- Requirement collection
- Quotation preparation
- Project confirmation
- Material coordination
- Worker allocation
- Site execution
- Quality inspection
- Handover
- Customer feedback

5.6 Development Stage

Current Stage: Early Market / Customer Acquisition

WELTRIQ has progressed beyond the pure idea stage.

The business foundation developed so far includes:

- Business concept development
- Brand development
- Business model development
- Website development
- Sales-process development
- SOP development
- Marketing foundation
- Customer acquisition activities

5.7 Current Product Scope

WELTRIQ's initial focus should remain deliberately narrow.

Primary Offering

Residential Roofing Projects

The business should first establish a repeatable and profitable roofing-delivery model before expanding into multiple unrelated service categories.

For the current WELTRIQ project, the primary focus is therefore:

> Build one strong, organized roofing service model first.

5.8 Future Product Development

Once the core roofing model is validated, WELTRIQ can gradually develop additional capabilities.

Potential future developments identified in the previous business materials include:

- Online enquiry and booking
- Digital product/design selection
- Website-based customer interaction
- Expansion into additional locations
- Partnerships with builders and engineers
- Larger commercial projects

These are future expansion possibilities, not part of the initial product scope.

5.9 Customer Value Created

The service is designed to transform the roofing experience from:

Unorganized contractor coordination to:

Structured project delivery

The intended customer receives:

Clarity + Accountability + Quality Control + Coordination + Professional Execution

The ultimate value proposition is therefore not only the physical roof.

It is:

> A more reliable and professionally managed way to complete a roofing project.
